General Information

Short summary

A Croatian SME specializing in developing eco-friendly board games that cater to children and families while incorporating educational features is looking to enter new markets via distribution or commercial agreement. These games feature storytelling elements and promote linguistic expression in children.

Full description

This Croatian company specializes in developing board games that are ideal for children between the ages of 4 and 12, as well as families. These games revolve around storytelling and contain universal rules, capturing the essence of fairy tales. Moreover, they enhance linguistic expression in children and have earned a reference from the Ministry of Science and Education of Croatia.

The company values eco-friendliness and ensures its games are plastic-free, constructed from wood sourced from a factory with eco-certification. Furthermore, the company seeks to expand to markets in Germany, France, Spain, Italy, United Kingdom and other European countries.

Advantages and innovations

The products offered by the company serve the dual purpose of providing entertainment and education. The company has earned a reference from the Ministry of Science and Education of Croatia, affirming its educational value. The products are made using sustainable materials and are free of plastic, sourced from an eco-certified factory.
